Taking Pictures Mister?

"YES, son! . . . and that's only the beginning.

For, from the photograph—which may be a street scene, or a

"model shot" for a daring new perfume, or a portrait of a new washing machine, or an interior view of a rolling mill—

RGB carries the medium of photography into a myriad applications . . . into, for instance, the making of printing plates for advertising, editorial, educational and decorative purposes. Yes, son, taking pictures is only the beginning —and just one of the things we do at RGB."

All engravings appearing in the Pictorial section of this edition were manufactured by this company.

College Education Leadership Training

the career opportunity of the year for high school students

High School Students may now get a free college education while qualifying for the Queen's Commission in the Navy, Army or Air Force, under the Regular Officer Training Plan.

Successful candidates will attend Royal Military College, Royal Roads, Collège Militaire Royal de Saint-Jean, or designated Canadian universities, as cadets in the Regular Forces.

They will receive service pay plus board and lodging, plus tuition costs at college, will take paid training with their chosen service in summer months and on completion of academic courses, serve Canada as Regular Force officers with the option of release after three years.

Applicants must have Senior Matriculation or equivalent, except for Collège Militaire Royal de Saint-Jean, where requirement is Junior Matriculation. Age limits for Collège Militaire Royal de Saint-Jean are 16 to 20 on 1st January of the year of entrance, for all others 16 to 21 on 1st January of the year of entrance. Applicants must be single, physically fit, and meet officer selection standards.

For full information write to the Regular Officer Training Plan Selection Board, National Defence Headquarters, Ottawa, or to any of the following:—

D E D I C A T I O N

This year the Magazine Board dedicates the 1954-1955 Annual to a man who has spent the past twenty-five years of his life in educating Stanstead College Latin and History students.

Speaking for the student body I would like to say that Mr. Hackett will always be remembered by his students for his never-failing patience, his endless store of anecdotes which added a spark of interest to our classes, and his deep regard for the highest principles. These qualities are very distinctly Mr. Hackett's.

We would like to thank him for the part he played in helping us as he did, and also to say, "Thank You Mr. Hackett — thank you for just being you."

Farewell

STAFF CHANGES

The outstanding change in the School for next year will come with the separation of Sunnyside School from Stanstead College. To those who leave our Staff to continue to work in Sunnyside we extend our best wishes.

Miss Dorothy Smith, who joined us in September as Bookkeeping teacher, leaves to be married in September. Miss Edith Howes, for the past two years a member of the Sunnyside staff, is to be married in June. To both of these ladies, our especial good wishes. Mr. Wilhelm Busse is going to Noranda as French teacher. Miss Margaret Philip, is also leaving the French department. Mr. John Bury and Miss Antonia Windler are also leaving as are Miss June Harris, Miss Kay Craib, and Miss Jacqueline Richards. To all of these people go our very good wishes for the future.

New members of the staff at the time of writing are Mr. Emile Lefebvre and Mrs. Sybil Galombos, both of whom will be teachers of French. Mr. Lefebvre has had many years of experience as a teacher in France while Mrs. Galombos comes to us from Trafalgar School.

Teacher of History and English will be Mr. E. A. Paradissis. Mr. Paradissis has had several years of successful teaching in residential schools in Scotland and England.

Editorial

"Your school is what you make it."

Have we, graduates of Stanstead, always done our very best? If we answer this question honestly many of us will have to say "no". We need not, however, feel that it is too late to give our best to our school.

We, the graduates of Stanstead can join its Alumni and attend its meetings. We can show an interest in what happens to our school. At all times we must boost and support it.

To you, those who will again return to Stanstead, profit by our mistakes, and give all you can to your school. At the end of a school year you will find that it was worth all the trouble that you seemed to have.

Fellow graduates, I wish you luck, and may your lives really be "what you make them" and therefore they will be to your satisfaction.

THE EDITOR.

STANSTEAD ENTERTAINS GOVERNOR-GENERAL

We are proud to record the privilege of having a visit from His Excellency the Governor-General, on May 31st.

His Excellency was received at the front of the Main Building by the Principal and Chairman of the Board of Trustees, and from there the party paraded to the reception room where he signed the guest book.

Outside on the front campus, we all heard an address by a representative of the local Mayors, introduced by the Principal, Mr. L. C. MacPherson. His Excellency then spoke replying to the Mayors' address.

The Governor-General then proceeded to inspect the College Cadet Corps. The outstanding Cadet was then presented the Strathcona Trust Medal by His Excellency.

This year Cdt. Major Allan Gillies won it. A special Precision Squad gave a display of other Cadet work which was most enjoyable.

No doubt the visit of the Governor-General will long be remembered by all of us who have had the good fortune to be present at that time. have the good fortune to be present at that time.

I am sure that our hearts will swell with pride when in future years we look back to May 31, 1955, the Visit of His Excellency, Governor-General Vincent Massey.

THE STUDENTS' COUNCIL

Seated — Mr. D. Hackett, J. Getliffe, R. Amaron (President), J. Chamberlain, J. Edward.
 Standing — C. Thomson, G. Copland, B. Gray, J. Setlakwe, G. Gatehouse, A. Gillies, L. Lemon, B. White.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Greetings to the members of the graduating classes. This year almost closed has brought to all of us, its share of successes and of failures. It is my hope for you that you have been able to use each happening whether good or bad, as an aid to your personal growth. If you can look back on your years at Stanstead and feel that you have progressed as a person, then the time spent here has been well spent.

May I express the hope that you will retain your connection with your School? Join the Alumni Society, attend the reunions, and, above all, cherish the friendships you have made here.

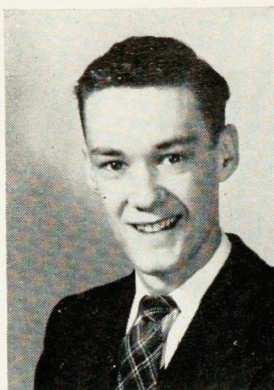

Good luck and Godspeed.

Lloyd MacPherson.

CLASS 12 PROPHECY

Ladies and gentlemen: We are gathered here today to reveal the powers of this new invention that you have been hearing and reading so much about — the future-scope. This machine will revolutionize all conceptions of futuristic vision. Now if you will give your attention to the screen we will put this instrument to the test.

There! Just one minute now and I'll see if I can bring it into a better focus. Say, that's Jack Adams! He always wanted to be in the airforce. There he is now—chief grease-monkey at Trenton Airport.

As the scene changes, I can pick out another gentleman who has risen in the world. There's Ian Doig. He used to be the fastest potato peeler and shoe shine boy in the army and is now the chief potato peeler in the Norris-Doig household.

There is another schoolmate of mine. Art Jepson, better known as "The Great Artini", is now proprietor of the "Artini Magic Shop".

Now we see a bridge under construction. As we bring the futurescope into a closer view, Jim Edward can be seen directing the work on the 13th reconstruction of the Duplessis Bridge.

Here comes Jim Lentgis sauntering down the street, with a dejected look on his face. A typewriter is under one arm and his diploma under the other. He's still looking for a job. Good luck, Jim!

As the scene changes again, Alan MacMillan is seen walking down Broadway with a pleased expression. He has recently been elected director of the Metropolitan Opera House. Director of the Piano-Key Cleaners that is!

There was a fellow called Bob Stokes in our graduating class. He wanted to be an engineer.

Whether a civil engineer, chemical engineer, or a mechanical engineer nobody knew. Let's see if we can tune in on Bury, Quebec. Yes, there's Bob pounding the last spike of that new Beebe to Bury railroad. That's an aspect of engineering we never thought of.

I wonder what happened to Louise Lemon. Say, there she is now. She's the Head Nurse for the Province of Quebec. She drives around to her appointments in a '65 Meteor Ranch Wagon. I always thought Louise would end up this way because of the practice she got tearing around the College back in the old school days.

Do you suppose we could find out anything about Robert Amaron? I read something about him being in Ottawa. Let's switch this machine to Ottawa. There's Robert. He's the guide in the Parliamentary Museum! Doesn't he look happy? No wonder, he always wanted to become connected with parliament.

My gosh! That looks like me. I wonder what I'm doing there? It looks as though I am looking into a machine similar to this one. It must be a past-scope! This can't be. The rays of the futur-scope will not mix with the rays of the past-scope. Two such forces meeting would . . .

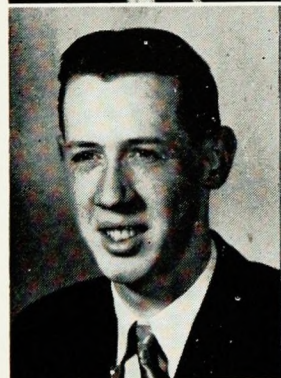

This is station S.W.C. There will be a brief interruption in our program while we bring you a flash announcement. There has been an unexplained explosion today somewhere in the mid-west. It was at first thought to have been an atomic explosion at Yucca Flats, but investigation has proved this rumour to be false. Several important scientists have been reported missing. For further details tune in on our six o'clock broadcast. We shall now resume our program of transcribed bird cries for the birds.

Brian Brown.

CLASS PROPHECY

When visiting Portneuf last week we discovered "Corinne's Cozy Corner", a fashionable tearoom with our old schoolmate Corinne acting as the charming hostess.

We found the French waiter to be another schoolmate, Andrew Bouchard, who told us about Norman and Kathleen who had finally tied the knot. They are now residing in Kenya where Norman is a minister. He also told us about Bruce and Lawrence who own a garage, their very capable mechanic being Hans Gosteli.

Another startling piece of information was about Joyce who is now breeding a new species of dogs called the "Junior" dogs.

We were then escorted into the kitchen where we found Douglas in charge of all sudsy operations. He told us about Owen who had finally been 'put away' because people tired of listening to him recite lines from his various plays. We found too, that Arlene was his very capable nurse.

Another surprise in the shop was Eva Huckins. She is now a fortuneteller and it was through her that we found out what the rest of our class is doing.

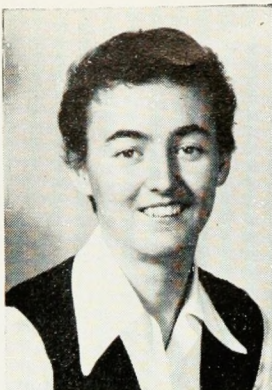

We learned that John is waterboy for the Chicago Black Hawks, that Schwartz is a manufacturer of sleeping pills, Don is the 'toothpick king' and Wayne is a dentist and is doing his own teeth pulling.

By peering deeper into her Crystal Ball, Madame Huckins told us about "Kates' Kool Kats". They are now a celebrated Jazz band and feature Janet Sylvester who is a very successful torch singer. Also in the field she found that Liberace had had a heart attack and Brian took over but he found one Candalabra did not give enough light so he uses two. Janet Stevenson is the one who waves his hair before each performance. Also with Liberace is Betty Boyd who goes on with him to keep all eyes on stage.

We were not very surprised to hear that Shirley is now an efficiency expert who teaches people how to learn without coming to school. Graham is in the Navy and recently cut his thumb peeling potatoes. Ross is more progressive and is president of the "Preservation of Wild Life Society" in St. Eustache, his secretary is Joan. Sonny is taking a night course to finish his high school education which he didn't do before.

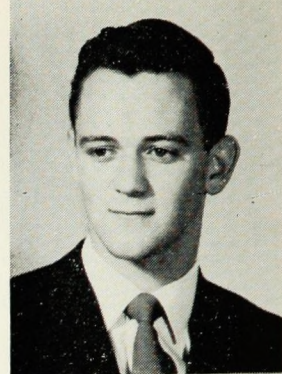

Pat Naylor found five marks on her History paper of nineteen fifty-five so she wrote Mr. Bury to tell him that he hadn't credited her with them. Liz is now working in a laboratory figuring out how to have more time during a day to eat, and Bev. spends most of her time at the races betting on a horse called "Sunny". We were very pleased to find that Pat Gerrie is now a plastic surgeon and is practising on her husband, Al.

BUGBEE PROPHECY

There I was at the Pearly Gate. Would I get in? Oh, well, it'd be worth a try anyway. My knock was answered by St. Peter and when I presented my passport, he said, "Oh, it's you — finally. They've been waiting for you for years around at the B. G." With that he closed the gate. "B. G." — what on earth, I mean in Heaven's name was that? I asked this question to an old man sitting by the Golden Road. "B. G. — why that's the Back Gate. It's for commercial students!" I expect that that was meant as an insult but I was used to them so I really didn't think much about it.

After a long trek, I finally reached the "B. G." and who should be waiting to greet me but St. Beth.

"Well, nice to see you could make it! This isn't Liberty Hall anymore, you know. Why, even Margaret got here on time."

"But Mrs. Smi--- I mean St. Beth, I was unavoidably delayed."

"There are plenty of "star brushes" that need cleaning."

"Tell me about the rest of Bugbee '55. Are they all here?"

"Well, not quite. Sam and Laird couldn't get up but Robert is here on a trial basis and was speaking to them only last year."

"Good. Say, isn't that Joyce Rediker over there with those two men?"

"You're right and the two men are Bill and Albert."

"Bill Curtis and Albert Bullock! Heavens, how they've changed! Bill looks so distinguished."

"And he should, too. Didn't you read in the papers about his being chosen as the ambassador of Canada to France? He was chosen for his sunny disposition and his ability to get along with people. Also for his great fondness for French."

"I think I did read something about that. How about Joyce and Albert? What did they do in life?"

"Well, oddly enough, if you'd arrived at the Canadian Embassy to see Ambassador Curtis, the doorman, who would have greeted you with bows and an easy flow of the French language, was none other than Mr. Bullock himself, and guarding the door to Mr. Curtis' private office would have been as receptionist Joyce Rediker, picked for her great fluency in French and her French mannerisms."

"My, they must have led quite a life down in gay Paree! By the way, do I know that angel over there with the cherubs?"

"That, believe it or not, is Ardys Aldrich. Do you remember the way she used to sit and watch the Sunnyside children skating? Well, she became a kindergarten teacher and when she arrived up here was rewarded by being given the job of looking after the cherubs."

"I'm so glad she found work in that field. Did you hear about Margaret?"

"No, she's only been here a few days."

"We kept in touch with each other off and on. She became editor of the "Advice to the Love-lornn" column in the "Cornwall Chronicle". I guess her success was due to her experience on the Flats."

"I think you're right. Of course, I wouldn't know if the advice were good or not, but she always seemed to be giving it! Oh, there are Huguette and Jackie. Do you know that the only thing that kept Jackie from joining Sam and Laird in "The Lower Regions" was the fact that he'd taken such good care of Hugo. They wrote a book together called "The Correct Way to Teach French".

"That's very appropriate. I'll never forget the arguments they used to have with Mr. Busse. Who are those two angels laughing over by that star?"

"Why, those are Louise Shepard and Jean Alger. Did you know that they were in the circus as a team?"

"No, really?"

"Yes. The neon sign outside their tent read — 'The Giggling Girls'."

"Well, one of our other Bugbeeites got into show business."

"I presume you're talking about Violet Bennett?"

"I am. I read about her being accepted in the Metropolitan Opera. I think she must owe her start to the morning chapel services and the girls' chorus at Stanstead. By the way where is our vice-president?"

"George? He's awfully busy these days. He is following through his lifetime profession and is running the Society Page in the "Heavenly News". He specializes in news from Rock Island, Beebe and Tomifobia."

"It's a good thing all the news he picked up in typing class is finally coming into its own. Speaking of typing, didn't John Buckland get somewhere in the typing world?"

"Yes. He became Typing Champion of Canada and gained this title by constant practice and concentration — on "Blue Eyes".

"Oh, there's Sonya Bogstad. Now that's a girl who knows how to study. She gave lectures on 'What to do with that 15 minutes'."

"Strange things will happen. How about Janet Reaves?"

"Speak of the angel and she appears. Do you see that woman with all the photographers around her? That is our Janet. On Earth she smiled for Pepsodent — now she's smiling for Heavensent, the new heavenly toothpaste! And that's Helen Embury making her laugh. Helen's job on Earth was to contribute the daily chuckle to the 'Sherbrooke Record'."

"Let's go and speak to Robert over at the Trial Court. I'm anxious to find out if he can stay, and to hear about Sam and Laird."

When we arrived at the Court, there was Robert amusing all the judges with stories of Stanstead life. We spoke to him afterwards and he told us that they were letting him stay for a while. We asked him what he had done on Earth and he said that he had been head of the Roads Department in Montreal. His specialty had been Snow Removal! We remembered the afternoon that he'd shovelled snow for a good many hours to "cool him down".

When asked about Sam and Laird, he replied, "Sam — he talk and talk and talk 'is way down there and Laird — he want a limousine and he knows that the "Lord don't sell no gasoline" so he cannot come up here."

"Thank you, Robert," said St. Beth, "we'll have to go and tell St. Dot so she can complete the record."

After we'd left Robert, I asked St. Beth, "What record is this you're talking about?"

"Well," she said, "St. Dot has kept the admittance record of Bugbee '55 and also has included an account of each one's accomplishments. Now that you've arrived and we have news from Sam and Laird, she can close the book and go to watch the cherubs play. At last she's found some angelic children."

"By the way, what did she put down as my accomplishments during life, St. Beth?"

"I think it goes something like this — 'After attending the United Nations Conference in Plymouth, N.H., Georgia became interested in politics — especially U.N. politics. She travelled throughout the Dominion of Canada, speaking, debating and working for improvements in the political world and finally became the Canadian representative at the U.N. in New York. Here she became well-known as an after-dinner speaker. Her speeches would still lend a Stanstead tone and always began, "Well, for Pete's sake." Come now, Georgia, gather all the Bugbeeites together."

"Yes, and we'll help you and St. Dot dust off the stars and get the harps in tune and the wings in action and have an even' song to remind us of the morning chapels which started each day in B. B. C."

"If they'd put Honolulu in our land

CADET CORPS

As I am one of the three cadets of our Corps who went to the Army Camp at Farnham, I would like to tell you about my experiences there.

On the third of July, Mrs. Lemon came to get us in her car, for her son was going there too. It was Saturday afternoon when we reached Farnham and we did not have anything to do, so we had plenty of time to look around the camp.

On Monday morning we had to go on parade to get our clothing, blankets and rifles.

In the mornings, we had lectures, and in the afternoons we mostly had sports. There were movies every night, so we always had much to keep us occupied.

On some afternoons we did not have anything to do and in our first four weeks we sometimes fought against the French boys. Sometimes we had a hard time because there were eight French Companies and only two English.

On Saturday afternoons we went swimming in Lake Champlain, and many boys who could not swim learnt during the seven weeks.

In our sixth week at Camp we were issued helmets, bullets and heavy uniforms, and went out for exercises in the field. Some boys even had Bren guns and it was a lot of fun to shoot them.

On the last night we had a very wild time. This was possible because many of the officers were celebrating, and we could do whatever we liked. I hope other Stanstead Cadets take advantage of the Farnham course this summer.

GIRLS' INITIATIONS

All the old girls and boys were responsible for initiation and the way it was planned was all done in perfect secrecy. They had a meeting together to decide our fate so the second weekend at Stanstead we were all awakened with the pleasant feeling of ice on our faces. But the best was yet to come.

We dressed over our pyjamas and had our pillow cases over our heads and our hands tied behind our backs. Being new in the school, we hardly knew where we were going without pillow cases over our heads, let alone with them.

We were then lined up in the hall, where they hand fed us our breakfast, which consisted of worms and flies that turned out to be cold spaghetti and raisins.

After our early breakfast, the old girls provided some entertainment for us. We were asked to duck for a quarter in a large pan of water. Before we had a chance to reach the quarter, something was slapped on our faces, this slimy substance turned out to be slightly cooked porridge with confetti mixed in it.

Our next destination was the tunnel which leads down from the girls' stairs. In the tunnel, we had our faces painted with lipstick, green tooth paste, and to top it off, bright red nail polish. By this time the porridge had hardened making our faces feel like clap.

Next, we found ourselves in the main hall of the first floor. Here we met the new boys who looked like Indians. Each new boy was made to kneel down to each new girl and make a proposal of marriage.

To top off the initiation, we were given rules to follow throughout the following week. We wore our school uniforms inside out and odd shoes and socks. Also we had one side of our hair done up in curlers.

Even if we did look a mess during the week of initiation, we all kept in mind the fact if we do return next year, it will be our turn to initiate the new girls.

Anne Quintin.

BOYS' INITIATION

In the wee hours of a drizzly Saturday morning, two days after our encounter with Stanstead College, initiation was once more playing its part with all the vim and vigour it had collected in its past eighty-six years of experience.

Here is the 1954-55 initiation sponsored by Craham Gatehouse (ring-leader), the old boys

(weapons), Mr. MacPherson (mastermind), and inflicted on us . . . "The Innocent!"

Dreaming peacefully Saturday morning somewhere between 3:30 and 4:00, we were routed out of bed by various means, (water, flashlights, etc.) with a clatter and a crash that would have awakened our Indian ancestors long since dead and buried.

Blind-folding us and binding our hands with anything they could find they herded us into the corridor like a flock of sheep. Then with a "faithful shepherd" leading two or more down the stairs, we were taken outside and over to the football field. I gathered it was the football field because it was wet and soggy . . . The most unfortunate part of this football game was the fact that we served as the footballs with no line, no backfield, and no subs!

After this we were taken over to the old gym where some of the most fantastic, back-breaking games were executed — such as trying to regain one's shoes from a heap all tied together, or trying to improve one's physique by doing push-ups only to land face down into a tub of water, freezing cold and smelling horribly of garlic.

Next we went downstairs to dress up for a little concert and parade. Lipstick was smeared over our chests and faces in grotesque fashion. Our hair was dyed a soft purple and sweet cologne was used to furnish the finishing touches. We were then led to the government customs to pay our annual visit by sweeping out the parking grounds and offices. Then we streamed back up to Stanstead and arrived half dead and puffed out at the Lamb House where we serenaded the lady teachers in an E-flat minor rendition of "Good Morning to You". Our sweet voices also blended in this serenade at the homes of Mr. Hackett and Mr. Tenneson.

"This was too good to stop now!" We filed back over the Girls' Campus and into the entrance where we made our formal introduction to the "new girls". On one knee, staring into those toothpaste coated faces we attempted to find ourselves a girl friend, make a date, and if possible a marriage proposal.

It was now daylight and time for breakfast and we were allowed to wash from our necks down. To go to breakfast we had to wear odd stockings, our clothes on backwards, and one pant leg rolled up. At breakfast we were entertained by skits put on by the "new boys and girls". The climax came when we were told that for the next week we had to wear a pant leg rolled up and ribbons in our hair. To add to the excitement we had to walk up and down stairs (eight flights) backward.

Need I say how glad I was when it was over? Now though, as I look back, I recall that it was a wonderful experience and something I will remember for a long time to come. But the most wonderful part of it all was that we were now proved freshmen of Good Old Stanstead Academy.

Allan Wilkins.

FRESHMEN PROM

The Freshmen Prom this year was held on September 19, in the reception room of the College where Miss Masten, Mr. MacPherson, Allan Gillies, and Pat Gerrie received the guests.

The evening began with the first Prom, led by Miss Masten and Mr. MacPherson. Following the Prom a short variety program was held in the reception room. John Getliffe, Allan Gillies, Alec Philip and Don Craig sang "There is a Tavern in the Town". Allan Gillies then sang a selection from "The Forest Prince" and a piano solo was played by Cynthia Gordon.

To end the program two skits were presented by the old students of the College under the leadership of Mr. MacPherson.

After this refreshments were served and a very enjoyable evening was brought to a close by the singing of the Alma Mater.

Allan Wilkins.

BUGBEE DANCE

The Bugbee Dance was a hard-times dance held in the old gym. The gym was appropriately decorated for the occasion with old wagon wheels and hay. Everybody enjoyed themselves as Mr. MacPherson kept us hopping with a series of lively square-dances. Mrs. Johnson and Mr. Boswell accompanied Mr. MacPherson on the piano and fiddle respectively. Besides square-dancing there were ordinary dances with music supplied by records. All profits are to be used for Bugbee Prom.

E. Sadler.

THE HALLOWE'EN PARTY

On the 29th of October a Halloween Party was held in the old gym. There was quite a large turnout, and the crowd was divided into two teams for the games which took first place on the programme for the evening. Congratulations went to Don Craig and his team for scoring the most points.

Next Mr. MacPherson showed an English film and after the refreshments were served Mr. MacPherson topped the evening off well by calling two square dances, which were enjoyed by three enthusiastic sets. Mr. Boswell and Mrs. Gordon supplied the music for this last event.

Heather Ramsay.

REMEMBRANCE DAY

A service of remembrance commemorating those who fell in the two world wars was held on November eleventh, under the auspices of the Stanstead Frontier Branch of the Canadian Legion and the American Legion.

The Remembrance Service was held at the Haskell Opera House where the guest speaker Reverend E. G. Tenneson spoke on Cenotaphs around which he had kept two minutes silence. The Last Post was played by Michael Kates and Donald Craig.

After the service the parade marched back to the College Memorial Gates where members of the Stanstead Cadets, the Canadian Legion and I.O.D.E. laid wreaths in memory of those who sacrificed their lives.

ROTARY

PUBLIC SPEAKING CONTEST

James Edward went to Sherbrooke in March as a representative from Stanstead College in the Public Speaking Contest sponsored by the Montreal Rotary Club.

There were seven schools represented at Sherbrooke: Bishop's College School, Sutton High, Thetford Mines High, Stanstead College, Sherbrooke High, Knowlton High and St. Patrick's High (Sherbrooke).

Jim spoke on "What I Want Out of College". Although Jim did not win, he gave a very interesting speech and placed third. The winner was Perry Cohen from Sutton who was to go to Montreal for the semi-finals.

INTERNATIONAL NIGHT 1954

One of the most exciting events of the year was International Night which was held in the Sunnyside gymnasium.

There were many beautifully decorated booths to attract young and old alike, such as the Punch Booth, Ice Cream Booth, Fortune Telling and many others. Many flags of different countries were used to establish the significance of the evening. The decorating committee deserves much praise for the way in which they decorated the gymnasium for the event.

The main event of the evening was the entertainment put on by students of all grades. First, there was the stage play "So This Is Paris" with splendid acting by Georgia Copland and Mike Kates, with the rest of the cast.

Then there was the French song "Orleans" sung by Grade Six. Following that was the Ball Dance put on by a number of students of Grade Three. A song entitled "En Passant Par La Lorraine" was sung by Grade Five. A "Skipping Dance" was then presented by Grades Four and Five which was followed by Grade Four singing "Sur Le Pont D'Avignon". "The Dance of the Midinettes" which was put on by a number of girls from the academy was a big success. Another outstanding number was the "High Singers" who sang many Scottish numbers. A big attraction was "Artini", Italian Wizard who is better known around Stanstead as Art Jepson.

To end the evening's entertainment a group of Can-Can dancers displayed their "talent" with Pat Gerrie as the leading dancer.

Following the entertainment there was a short auction in which Mr. MacPherson acted as the auctioneer.

There were approximately eight hundred people who attended the event, both to enjoy themselves and to help others. I am quite sure that they went home confident that they had done both.

DEBATING SOCIETY

This year a Debating Society was organized by Rev. E. Geoffrey Tenneson. Much interest was shown by those who attended these debates.

At the first meeting of the society, Georgia Copland was chosen as Secretary.

The opening debate of the school year was held in Bugbee, the subject being: "Resolved that the Emancipation of Woman was a mistake." On the affirmative side were Robert Amaron and Jim Edward. On the negative side were Betty Ann Colt and Louise Lemon. The majority were in favour of the affirmative side.

On December 6th, another debate was held, the topic being: "Resolved that Dagwood Bumstead is a greater benefactor of the human race than Einstein." Joyce Chamberlain and Owen Wheelock upheld this resolution, and Margaret McKay and Sydney Schwartz opposed it. Dagwood put up a good argument but eventually lost to Einstein.

A teachers' debate was held on January 17th, and it was: "Resolved that this house is in favour of a revised spelling." The resolution was supported by Mr. Bury and Mrs. Smith, and was opposed by Rev. G. Tenneson and Mrs. Fleming. The majority were in favour of the resolution.

Another interesting debate was held, to discuss whether "Radio is more beneficial than television." Georgia Copland and Kit Cousins were on the affirmative side, Betty Ann Colt and Robert Amaron were on the negative. The majority favoured the affirmative side.

It is hoped that this society will continue to be as successful in the future as it has been this year.

SADIE HAWKINS DANCE

The annual Sadie Hawkins Dance was held this year in Sunnyside gymnasium which was beautifully decorated in a Valentine Day theme. Receiving the students were Miss Masten, Mr. Higginbotham, Joan Thomson, and Mike Kates. Most of the music for dancing was supplied by records, but a few numbers by the Jazz Band were much appreciated. Prizes for the most original invitations and replies sent were won by Joyce Labaree and Wayne Boyd respectively. Elizabeth Philip won the prize for having treated the greatest number of boys, and Kirk Cameron for having been treated the most often. Pat Gerrie and Al Gillies, Janet Sylvester and Jack Anderson won prizes for the most original corsages. Refreshments were served by the girls and cokes were sold.

Everyone present entered into the spirit of the evening and enjoyed themselves. The dance was judged to be very successful.

THE CHRISTMAS DANCE

The Christmas Dance was held this year on December the eleventh. It was actually a combination of the Football and Christmas Dances. It was held in the Dining Room with Miss Windeler, Mr. Boswell, Betty Ann Colt and Jim Edwards receiving the guests.

The room was decorated with pine boughs, red and green lights, streamers and balloons which added greatly to the Christmas spirit.

Records, run by capable M.C. Frank Chiarella, supplied the music and a couple of square dance records and the "Bunny Hop" supplied the added excitement to a well-planned and very enjoyable evening.

THE BUGBEE PROM

The Bugbee Prom was revived this year and was acclaimed by all to be a tremendous success. As it was held on March 19th the Irish Theme was carried out in the decorations which graced the dining-room.

The highlight of the evening was the Grand March headed by Mr. MacPherson, Mrs. Smith, Miss Smith, Georgia Copland and George Rediker.

Laird Cross em-ceed and did a very fine job. During the evening a programme was put on which consisted of a piano duet "Flight of the Bumble Bee" played by Georgia Copland and Margaret Mackay. A vocal "Deep in the Forest" was sung by Shirley Sasso, followed by an amusing skit entitled "The Mellerdrummer" was put on.

Reverend and Mrs. Rose won the elimination dance. Appropriate prizes for the balloon dance were two over-sized balloons.

The evening was concluded at 11 o'clock with the singing of the Alma Mater.

PLYMOUTH MODEL ASSEMBLY

The United Nations Model Assembly in Plymouth, New Hampshire, was held this year on May 12 - 14. As the honorable delegate of Pakistan, I attended the Assembly along with 130 delegates from all parts of New Hampshire and Vermont.

Upon arriving, we registered in the main building of the Plymouth Teachers' College, which, each year plays host to the Model U. N. We then proceeded to lunch which was followed by the opening session in the Auditorium. There were greetings first from the college by Dr. Hyde, the President; then from the Rotary International by Mr. Gary Earl Heath; and finally from the Steering Committee, who had arranged the whole Assembly, and by Helen Potter, the Chairman. The famous A Capella Choir of Teachers sang four religious numbers.

The speaker of this opening session was Dr.

Harold G. Skilling who spoke on the topic, "The United Nations — An Appraisal After Ten Years." Dr. Skilling pointed out that too much had been expected of the U.N. in the first place. It had been brought into a world of utter conflict, not given enough power and yet had been expected to solve the problems of the world. He said that the U.N. could not guarantee peace but that without it, we should definitely be on the way to war now. Dr. Skilling received a standing ovation from the delegates.

Almost immediately following this opening session the First Plenary Session was held. John Jarry of St. Johnsbury, Vermont presided over the General Assembly at this session. The Model U.N. Assembly of 1955 was begun with a Minute of Meditation. Then Secretary-General gave his report, the agenda was read, discussed and then adopted.

Just before the Rotary Banquet there were organization meetings of the Standing Committees. I attended the Economic and Financial Committee where we discussed that afternoon the problem of the International Control of Atomic Energy. The United States made a proposal, a plan whereby all nations would contribute to a common atomic stockpile.

The evening's entertainment was a public meeting at which Mr. S. O. Walker, District Governor, extended his greetings. He said that from what he had seen so far "it would perhaps be better for the United Nations in New York to model this Assembly rather than this Assembly modelling them." Then Hon. Charles Griffin, Speaker of the House of Representatives, spoke to us on behalf of the State Governor. Mr. Abdul Mawgoud Hassan, the evening's speaker was introduced and gave us a very informative talk. Mr. Hassan is permanent member of the delegation of Egypt to the U.N. He gave us Egypt's views on different world problems and her position in the United Nations.

Friday contained a very pressing schedule of committee meetings and Plenary Sessions. Then in the evening we all attended the Cafe International to which many people wore the costumes of the countries they were representing. It was truly a striking scene.

On Saturday morning there were the closing meetings. The General Assembly that morning entertained the most heated discussion of the whole Assembly. It concerned the elimination of the Veto in the Security Council. Instead of being the usual controversy between democratic nations and communist nations, this argument, begun by the Pakistan delegation's proposal to limit the power of the Veto, ranged the large nations versus the small.

There was a critique of the Assembly as a whole given by Mr. Charles Kinney and then with a Minute of Meditation, the Model General Assembly of the United Nations at Plymouth, N.H. for 1955 was adjourned.

STANSTEAD COUNTY TEACHERS ASSOCIATION PUBLIC SPEAKING CONTEST

The Annual Stanstead County Teachers Association Public Speaking Contest was held in Ayer's Cliff early last December, with contestants present from several of the schools in the county.

Stanstead College was represented in both the Junior and the Senior divisions.

The winner in the Junior division was Martin Gerard from Stanstead, who gave a very interesting speech on "My Canadian Hero".

In the Senior division the Southern Canada Power tray was awarded to Patsy Hayhew, from Coaticook who gave an excellent speech on "Forest Conservation and Flood Prevention".

Although our representative, Patricia Gerrie did not win first prize she did exceptionally well and came close behind Patsy by placing third.

JUNIOR DEBATES

The Junior Debate for the Harper Trophy, was held on May 20th, in the Sunnyside gymnasium at 8:30 P.M.

The topic in question was "Resolved that Dramatics are of more benefit to students than Sports". Upholding the resolution were Shirley Sasso and Charles Falgar. Against the resolution were Linda Gerrard and David Birch.

The Harper Trophy was presented to Shirley and Charles from Grade Nine, who established the fact that Dramatics are of more benefit than Sports.

SENIOR DEBATES

The semi-final debates were held on May 9th with grades ten and eleven competing. The resolution was "Resolved that the world is going to the dogs". Betty Ann Colt and Patricia Gerrie from grade eleven were for the resolution, while Michael Gerrie and Ben Gray were against it. Although both sides did a very good job, the judges felt that Betty Ann and Pat had the best argument.

Also, on May 9th, grade twelve and Bugbee battled the question "Resolved that a wheelbarrow is of more use on a farm than an old maid". On the affirmative side, from grade twelve were James Edward and Robert Amaron, and on the negative side from Bugbee were Violet Bennett and Georgia Copland. This debate was very close, but it was decided that Bugbee did the best job.

On Friday night May 20th, the final debate was held in the Sunnyside gymnasium in competition for the Hackett Trophy. The topic was "Resolved that the voting age in Canada should be reduced to eighteen.

The winners from the semi-finals, Betty Ann and Patricia, took the affirmative side, while Georgia and Violet, the other semi-final winners took the negative.

There followed a heated debate, and we have reason to believe that the judges, Miss McFadden, Mr. Tenneson and Mr. McGilton found it very hard to reach a decision. The Trophy was presented to the affirmative side by Mr. MacPherson.

EXCELLENT PERFORMANCE GIVEN BY STANSTEAD COLLEGE

On Friday night, April 30th, at the Haskell Opera House, "Ichabod Crane" was presented by the Stanstead College Dramatic Club.

Ichabod Crane is a vain school master who is interested in Katrina and her wealth. Brom Van Brunt is his deadly rival and is also in love with Katrina. Katrina's parents, Vrou and Mynheer Van Tassel, favour Ichabod because of his manners and intelligence. Katrina disapproves of this so Hendrick and his sweetheart, Wilhelmina show up Ichabod as a coward by scaring him with the story of the Headless Horseman. In the end everything turns out right. Katrina's Aunt Hilda wants Ichabod herself to take back to New York. So Ichabod goes to New York with Hilda; Hendrick and Wilhelmina marry, as do Brom and Katrina. Even Vrou and Mynheer Van Tassel approve of Brom.

Each and everyone played a valuable part in the operetta and all did a fine job.

Those students who had anything to do with the operetta by selling tickets, painting scenery, making costumes, or putting on make-up as well as many other important tasks, will agree, I'm sure, that we never had such a good time.

Much credit is to be given to Brian Taylor who very ably acted the rôle of Ichabod Crane, and to Jacqueline Weise who was excellent as Katrina. Allan Gillies did exceptionally well as Brom Van Brunt, Ichabod's deadly rival. Donald Craig as Hendrick, Katrina's brother was very convincing and sang very well. We must not forget Katrina's parents Vrou and Mynheer Van Tassel, acted by Alan MacMillan and Louise Lemon as well as Wilhelmina, Hendrick's sweetheart played by Patricia Naylor, and Georgia Copland was very good as Aunt Hilda, the rich widow from New York.

The mixed chorus added to the Operetta by singing in the background.

A special applause should go to our producer and director, Mr. Lloyd C. MacPherson, and to Mr. S. W. W. Lynch who handled the musical part of the Operetta.

The Operetta was very colourful, a job very well done and greatly enjoyed by all who attended the performance.

The Cast of Ichabod Crane:

Katrina — Jacqueline Weise

Ichabod — Brian Taylor

Brom Van Brunt — Allan Gillies
 Vrou Van Tassel — Alan MacMillan
 Myneer Van Tassel — Louise Lemon
 Hendrick — Donald Craig
 Wilhelmina — Patricia Naylor
 Aunt Hilda — Georgia Copland
 David, Ichabod's servant — Evan Smith
 Headless Horseman — David Foster

‘ ‘THE MISER’ ’

On March 29th the Stanstead College Dramatics Club and Thespian Troupe 1056 presented "The Miser" at the Haskell Opera House, under the direction of L. C. MacPherson.

The play began at Harpagnon's (Ivan Kyle) home and throughout the play we are concerned with Harpagnon's daughter, Elise (Margaret MacKay) who is in love with Valere (Owen Wheelock) but promised by her father to Seigneur Anselme (Robert Amaron), and Harpagnon's son, Cleante (James Edward) in love with Marianne (Patricia Gerrie) who is supposed to marry Harpagnon. The play is concerned with the difficulties which these situations present, but it is finally discovered that Seigneur Anselme is Marianne's father and Valere is Marianne's brother. Then the love affairs are cleared up.

Also starring in the play were Laflèche, Cleante's valet (Alex Philip), Master Simon, an intermediary (Michael Gerrie), Frosine, an adventuress (Ann Quintin), Brindoriene (Peter Farwell), Dame Claude (Betty Ann Colt), and Antoine (Sydney Schwartz), servants to Harpagnon and Master Jacques (Allan Gillies) his cook and coachman. The officer was played by L. C. MacPherson and the Officers' clerk by Brian Donnelly.

THE GIRLS' CHORUS

Seated — C. Norris, J. Weise, K. Hill, Mr. Lynch, G. Copland, B. Boyd, C. Thompson.
 Standing (1st row) — B. Young, S. Bogstad, K. Cousins, A. Bernier, B. Kezar, H. Ramsey, A. Quintin, K. Blachford, B. A. Colt, J. Chamberlain, P. Naylor.
 2nd row — L. Lemon, A. Probyn, S. Sasso, E. Philip, A. Middleton, F. Channell, E. Webster, M. Mackay, H. Desmarais, J. Cass, B. White.

EASTERN TOWNSHIPS CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

The Eastern Townships Conservatory of Music's staff this year consisted of Mr. S. W. W. Lynch, Miss E. McFadzen, Mrs. A. P. Gordon, Mrs. S. W. W. Lynch, Mrs. McK. Rose, Mr. Dean Wheeler, and Mrs. S. Fulcher.

New clubs formed were the Glee Club and the Grade Eight girls singing group. The girls' chorus sang at the Remembrance Day Service and also at the Carol Service in December.

The production of this year's operetta, "Ishabod Crane", consisted of most of the musical groups, the orchestra and chorus both having done a wonderful job.

Yet to come are three concerts, the first consisting of pieces by the orchestra, band and girls' chorus on June third, and two recitals, one on June second and our last on June sixth.

This year two of our music students, Cynthia Gordon (piano) and Jacqueline Weise (singing) were registered at the music festival in Sherbrooke. Both were successful in winning prizes.

ORCHESTRA

Seated — B. Gray, G. Hovey, Mrs. Lynch, M. Kates, D. Craig, T. Christopher, Miss E. McFadzen.
Standing — S. W. W. Lynch (Director), C. Sampson, B. Theodore, D. MacFarlane, P. Audet, A. Philip,
A. Gillies, T. Cregeen, R. Audet, M. Fregeau.

RECITALS

The first recital by music students from the Academy grades was given in the Sunnyside gymnasium on December 3rd, 1954 at 8:30 p.m.

The College Band under the direction of Mr. Lynch opened the program with a march "Stepping Along" by Goldman and closed the program with another march "Blaze Away" by Holzman.

Quite a number of Miss McFadzen's piano students played on the program including:

- 1- Eric Smith -
"In a Gypsy Camp" by Aaron.
- 2- Thelma Hyatt -
"Serenade" by Schubert.
- 3- Linda Gerrard -
"Knight Rupert" by Schumann.
- 4- Elizabeth Webster -
"English Dance".
- 5- Gordon Edgar -
"Twinkle Toes" by Eckstein.
- 6- Cynthia Cummings -
"Largo" by Handel.
- 7- Phyllis Curtis -
"Impromptu" by Schubert.

Three of Mrs. Rose's vocal students appeared on the program. Georgia Copland sang (a) "Such a L'il Fellow" by Dichtmont (b) "Still as the Night" by Bohm. Shirley Sasso sang (a) "Love as Mine" by Giordiani (b) "All the Things You Are" by Kern. Jacqueline Wiese sang (a) "Dedication" by Franz (b) "The Fair" by Rathbone. Georgia and Shirley were accompanied by Mrs. Gordon. Jacqueline was accompanied by Mrs. Rose.

The Girls' Chorus conducted and accompanied by Mr. Lynch, sang three songs: (a) "Country Gardens" by Cecil Sharp (b) "Ukrainian Folk Song". (c) "Just Awearying for You" by Bond.

Wind Instruments were represented on the program by Cleland Selby who played a clarinet solo "March Slave" by Tchaikowski and by Graham Gatehouse who played a saxophone solo: "Villa Song from The Merry Widow" and by Michael Kates who played a cornet solo: "The Little Colonel" by Brockman. These three boys were accompanied by their teacher, Mr. Lynch.

A Junior Recital by younger pupils of the Conservatory was given in Sunnyside gymnasium in the afternoon of December 3rd, when a large number of parents and friends came to hear the girls and boys play.

The next recital is scheduled for April 22nd, 1955.

Michael Kates.

EXCHANGES

"Dumbel" - Sherbrooke, Quebec. Your magazine is one of the best, its sections are well divided. The pictures of "When we grow up" are especially interesting. The poetic work is well worth noting. A fine magazine. Keep up the good work.

"Annual" - Chambly County High School, Chambly, Quebec. Advertising a bit confusing. Could we suggest larger pictures? Your caricature section is excellent and adds greatly to your magazine.

"The Tallow Dip" - Netherwood, Rothesay, New Brunswick. Literary and poetic work good. All in all a good magazine. Pictures are good. A small picture beside each character sketch would add much interest.

"The College Times" - Toronto Summer edition. Literary work well done. Newspaper clippings of important happenings is a very good idea.

Could we suggest a few more humorous poems and pictures.

"The Ashburian" - Ashbury College, Ottawa. Form notes are very good and add to your fine magazine. Pictures are good and very well illustrated. Literary work good. May we suggest a few poems. You have a good magazine. May we congratulate you on your fine work.

"School Annual" - Galt Institute, Valleyfield. A good literary section. Would it be possible to divide sections more clearly? Personal signatures of the "Letter Winners" is a very good idea but the placement is confusing.

"The Review" - St. Andrew's College, Ontario. Literary section interesting. Could you tell us more about your graduates in their character sketch? Pictures are good. Drawing proved interesting.

This year's Senior Football season, hamstrung by injuries and inexperience, nevertheless came up with two stellar victories which helped to dispel the gloom caused by a losing season. Altogether there were eight games, two of which were victories, five losses, and one a tie.

The season began with a scrimmage game against Newport. The results were inconclusive — a 6-6 tie — due partly to the shortened playing time and partly to the mud, a bane throughout the season, but the experience was helpful. The next two Saturdays witnessed two more losses, 7-0 to the Old Boys — thanks in great measure to Lindsay Smith's kicking — and 19-0 at Bishop's.

The fourth game of the season was against Verdun High School. Verdun's record in Montreal Senior B ranks, previous to the contest, had been 3 wins and no losses. Furthermore they had outscored their opponents 72-0. Naturally Verdun were heavy favourites to win — except at Stanstead College. When they met the determined Red and White squad, Verdun realized that past performances would be no help and they dug in. The game was close and often it seemed that victory was going to elude the grasp of the College crew. Injuries to Jimmy Smith and Graham Gatehouse threatened disaster but the players refused to leave the field until the job was done.

Sonny Gleeson scored two touchdowns, Bob Stokes speeded for a third, and Wayne Boyd turned a neat pass into one more major. Boyd also kicked a convert. Verdun fought gamely and star Jerry Stevens crossed the goal line three times, while George Tsonas made all three converts. It was not enough to catch the Red and White and the final whistle saw Stanstead on the long end of a 21-18 count for a major upset.

The College team finished out the season in less spectacular fashion losing a return game to Verdun 36-6, losing a hard-fought decision to B.C.S. 7-1, and splitting the home and home series with Quebec, winning here 16-12 and losing on an exceptionally muddy field at Quebec by the score of 12-10.

Coach Dave Boswell had a difficult task this year with only a handful of last year's team returning. End Wayne Boyd and Alex Philip, who switched from half-back to the difficult quarter-back position, proved to be an effective passing combination, while centre Graham Gatehouse and guard John Getliffe were the defensive backbones of the team. Outstanding among new players was Ronald Gleeson who turned in brilliant performances in every game and paced the running attack with his great speed and brilliant deception. Jimmy Smith, coming up from last year's Junior team, was a fierce and effective campaigner until injuries sidelined him midway through the season.

All told the year was not among the best the school has had in football, but if nothing else was accomplished, the victory over Verdun was a standout in any year and for any team.

FENCING

D. Foster, M. MacKay, G. Copland, I. Doig, P. Gerrie, Miss Windeler, A. Quintin, P. Naylor, A. Gillies, E. Sadler, B. White

En garde! Touché! These are familiar sounds heard in the fencing classes generally held Wednesday afternoons for all who are interested in learning this fascinating sport. Miss Windeler, our physical education teacher is an amateur fencer who spent many hours teaching students the difficult art of protecting oneself and attacking an opponent. Although this sport was an extra-curricular activity, it was surprising to see the number of enthusiastic pupils. I am sure everyone of us enjoyed our fencing lessons immensely and although we do not know all the "tricks of the trade" as yet, it has been a good start for anyone who wishes to continue.

 D. Foster.

The Junior squad played five games this year and won only one, a 16-3 verdict against Lennoxville. A weak forward line counteracted the benefits of a strong, fast backfield and despite the efforts of Coach Alan Greer, and the fine running of Neil Bachelder and his mates, the College crew lost two games each to Sherbrooke and B.C.S.

Despite the poor record, the team brought no discredit to itself. Lack of experience, decidedly not lack of effort, was the reason for failure and it is to the credit of Mr. Greer that his green troops acquired as much "savvy" as they did.

SENIOR HOCKEY

It has been a long time since so powerful an attack and so tenacious a defence have been combined on a single Stanstead College Senior Hockey squad as were displayed by the 1954-55 contingent. At full strength the team consisted of four complete lines, two sets of defencemen, and two goalies. The line of Philip, Getliffe and Stokes was by far the most deadly offensive trio, accounting for 39 of the team's 77 goals. Unfortunately for the opposition they could not afford to concentrate on this line because the moment they relaxed pressure on the other combinations of Ellis, Bachelder and Chamberlain, Theodore, Cameron and Audet, and Barrett, Brown and Gray, one of them was sure to score. Just to make things tougher all four regular defencemen, Gillies, Edward, Gleeson, and Boyd, scored at least once.

Defensively the team was equally powerful. Mike Gerrie played brilliantly in goals throughout the season — thereby keeping almost equally proficient sub-goalie, John Buckland, unoccupied. The four defensemen played rugged, close-checking hockey and rarely allowed opposing players a clear shot or goal. Most of the forwards also helped by checking back on defence.

In brief the team had scoring punch to spare, as a whole the team skated well, passing was good, and defensive play aggressive. All this there was and more in the person of Coach Dave Boswell, whose fine hand at the tiller led this powerhouse to victory in the Q.A.P.S.B. Senior Provincial Championships, victory — and a tie — against a bitter rival, B.C.S., and victory in two of the three remaining exhibition games.

This year was the first in which Stanstead had an entry in the Provincial League and the first try was an impressive success. A home-and-home series against Lennoxville started the Red and White squad on their way. The second round pitted S.W.C. against Richmond in a sudden death game played in the Sherbrooke Arena. The score was 2-2 after twenty minutes and 4-3 at the end of the second period. Richmond scored first in the final stanza and with no less than five minutes of playing time the College trailed 5-3. Suddenly Getliffe, gathering momentum in his own end, broke into the clear or the right side. He faked the goalie out of the net but before he could launch his shot a Richmond defenceman knocked him down. As he slid towards the boards Getliffe managed to get his stick on the puck and flip out towards the goal. The disc slip up to prone defenceman's leg, hit the goalie, and dribbled tantalizingly into the net. Seconds later another rush by Getliffe set Philip up in front of the net for the tying goal and before the handful of spectators had settled down, Philip scored again to give Stanstead a 6-5 victory and a crucial step in the title hunt.

The following week Knowlton was the victim. The Red and White started slowly and trailed 4-0 at the end of the first. Five goals in the second period and four more in the final frame, three of them by Stokes, gave Stanstead a 9-5 win and the right to meet Quebec in the finals.

The championship game was really no contest. Stanstead had the edge in every department, goaling, defensive play, shooting, checking, and skating. The final score was 9-0 and that gives a fair indication of the play.

Provincial League eligibility rules prevented Audet, Gleeson, Theodore, and Buckland from playing and Syd Schwartz replaced Gleeson on defence as well as being sub-goalie. In the final game, a 5-5 tie with B.C.S., the squad was once again at full strength but a slow start, which left them trailing 3-1 after two periods, proved just too much and they had to be content with a tie. That made the season record 8 wins (including exhibition victories over Ayer's Cliff 3-2, Knowlton 7-1, and B.C.S. 11-4), 1 loss (the season opener at Windsor Mills by a score of 8-6), and 1 tie. Coupled with a Provincial championship that makes a pretty good record for any team. Congratulations!

INTERMEDIATE HOCKEY

Seated — T. Christopher, O. Lemon, J. Setlakwe, J. Kirwin, M. Lewis, P. Farwell, B. Ross.
Standing — A. MacMillan, K. Cameron, C. Roberts, D. Strachan, D. Craig, D. MacFarlane, P. Audet, A. Zinman, K. Collins, D. Boswell, Coach.

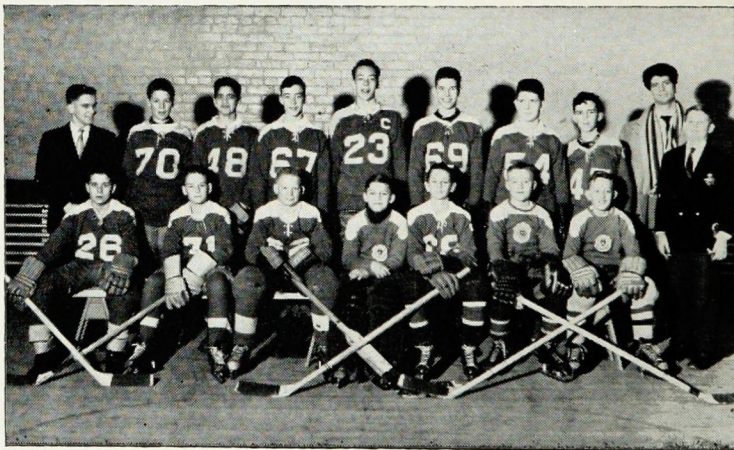

In all the excitement of the Provincial Senior Championship, far too few people bothered to watch or support our other entry in the Provincial League. The Intermediate Hockey team did not win a championship, but it was not lack of effort on their part.

It is regrettable that they received almost no support from college spectators in their three games. In an exhibition, they outscrambled Knowlton 3-2 on goals by Collins, Setlakwe and Lewis. In the first round of the Provincial Championship, however, hard work and spirit were not enough as Ayer's Cliff won 1-0 and 3-2. Setlakwe and MacFarlane were the Stanstead scorers.

BANTAM HOCKEY

Although the league championship escaped their grasp, the members of the Bantam team had a reasonably successful season. During the schedule the College crew won four games, tied one and lost one. Both the tie and the loss were to the league-leading Stanstead Town team. In the play-offs the College easily defeated Rock Island and edged past Beebe. Unfortunately, the third round, which was against Ayer's Cliff fell on the evening of the Visser basketball finals in Sherbrooke and a sudden snow storm stranded the coach, Mr. Higginbotham, and several of his regulars on the other side of Dufferin Heights. The remainder struggled valiantly but lost out 1-0 to Ayer's Cliff, thus ending the season.

The line of Chiarella, Greenshields, and McLean accounted for most of the team's scoring, although co-captain Kauspedas and his wingmen, Bishop and Hallot, also contributed to the offence.

Seated — G. Chiarella, G. Bishop, B. McLean, C. Zimmerman, R. Kauspedas, W. Buckland, B. Hallot.

THE CHEERLEADERS

ALL SET! YOU BET!

CHEERLEADERS

J. Chamberlain, B. MacAlister, F. Channell, P. Gerrie, A. Quintin.

How often through the basketball season were these words heard as five Stanstead beauties cheered on the hard-working College cagers. Joyce Chamberlain, Anne Quintin, Faye Channell, Bev. MacAlister and Pat Gerrie, the cheerleaders in question, were selected at the beginning of the year.

They practised endlessly on their own time and developed many crowd-pleasing routines. Whenever they appeared in their attractive costumes (which they made themselves), they brought encouragement to the players and delight to the spectators.

SENIOR BASKETBALL

Seated — M. Lewis, G. Gatehouse, W. Boyd, R. Cameron, A. Philip.
Standing — F. Chiarella (Manager), W. Barrett, J. Edward, B. Brown, S. Schwartz, R. Gleeson, Mr. Boswell (Coach).

This year the Senior Basketball team had a record of six wins and five losses. At first glance that may not seem too impressive but consider that against Canadian opposition the record is six wins against no defeats, and the true picture emerges. Realize further that six of the last eight games were victories and you can better understand what kind of squad this was.

The team was assembled — quite literally — from every available source. Graham Gatehouse, Alex Philip, and Sydney Schwartz returned from last year's squad. Malcolm Lewis and Wesley Barrett graduated from Junior ranks. St. Eustache provided Wayne Boyd, Ross Cameron, and Ronald Gleeson. From Granby came Brian Brown, and last year's Visser Championship

Squad donated Jim Edward.

The season started poorly. Hockey interfered with practice. It took time to grow accustomed to one another's styles. New plays, and new defensive patterns had to be learned. Morale touched rock bottom in mid-February as Brighton walked over our cagers 91-39 on our home court. It was the third straight loss—Derby had previously won 49-31 and 43-33. An easy win over Ayer's Cliff in the zone championship failed to evoke much optimism. The team lost again to Brighton 92-48 but after that they seemed to hit their stride. Lewis, under the basket, was piling up points. Cameron was quickly becoming a dead shot from anywhere outside the bucket. Philip, Gatehouse, and Boyd were the playmakers. Even the bench was power-packed.

An all-star team from Sherbrooke paid two visits and lost both times. For almost the first time College rooters began to realize that here was a team of championship calibre. The Tuesday before the Visser saw the team battle North Troy on even terms for three quarters and lose finally 64-48 to the powerful American squad. Mr. Boswell and his team were ready. The team could run and it could score. The defence, which had been swiss cheese earlier in the year, was vastly improved and Mr. Boswell's new defensive zone could well prove to be an ace in the hole.

It did. Richmond was the first opponent and, paced by Ross Cameron who was an outstanding point-getter in the tournament, the College quintet won 48-27. Tough was the word for Lennoxville, the foes in the afternoon. Not tough enough however to turn back the well rounded team bearing the Stanstead standard. The score was 49-39.

All that had gone before had been only a build-up for that final game. This was the third meeting of these two schools. Stanstead had won in 1953. Three Rivers were defending champions. Rumour had it that they were deadly on offence, not quite so good on defence. The rumours were only half right. From the opening whistle it was obvious that something was wrong with the famed marksmanship of the Trifluvians. While the Red and White offence performed efficiently the defending champions ran aground repeatedly on the College's rock-like defence. By the half Stanstead had a comfortable lead. At the three quarter mark the superlative conditioning of the Trifluvians began to tell and the question became which would be used first, the College lead or the playing time. Three Rivers pressed, but, where conditioning failed, guts and determination held and neither cramps nor disparity in height could daunt the College Cagers. The buzzer ended with Stanstead ahead 44-39 and the Visser Trophy is once more at Stanstead.

Before we close a special word of commendation should be given to Ross Cameron. He scored 21 points against Three Rivers and was second to Kendell by only three points as the tournament high scorer. Also to Sonny Gleeson, Wes Barrett, Brian Brown, Jim Edward, and Syd Schwartz who provided the extra strength and the reserve power which was one of the decisive factors in winning the Visser Championship. They too gave their best and their best was good enough.

The Junior Basketball squad, under the coaching of Graham Gatehouse, played four games this year and won two. The first two games were parts of doubleheaders against Brighton and like their Senior counterparts, the Juniors lost both games. In the first game Brighton outscored the home team in every quarter to win 30-12. Osborne with 13, and Brooks with 10, were high-scorers while the best for Stanstead was Joe Setlakwe with two field goals for four points. In the return game, McWain for Brighton, sank 12 field goals and one free throw for twenty-five of Brighton's 36 points, as Stanstead lost 36-20.

The third game, this one against Derby, was a real thriller. Roberts scored 16 points for Stanstead against Derby's Taplin, who scored 11, but his fine work would have been a wasted effort without Zinman's one-handed push shot from the corner, in the final seconds of the game, which gave the College an exciting 28-26 victory. In the season's finale, against North Troy, Stanstead utilized a decided height advantage to win 27-10. Scoring was evenly distributed with Roberts and Gray getting six points each, while Zinman, Setlakwe, and Sampson each had four.

Kneeling — C. Thomson, P. Naylor, M. MacKay, B. Boyd.

Standing — B. MacAlister, P. Gerrie, A. Middleton, S. Bogstad (Captain), G. Copland, E. Sadler, A. Quintin, Miss Windeler (Coach).

The senior girls basketball team this year, held a high and well-earned record of victories. Their first game was at home with Derby. The team consisted of Sonja Bogstad (Captain), Ann Quintin, Alice Middleton, Pat Holden, Betty Laberee, and Georgia Copland, coming through with a score of 47-46 in their favour. On January 14th, the girls played Newport High School in Newport for a 40-39 victory. Sonja and Ann are responsible for most of the baskets. The "B" team, as well as the "A" team was given a chance to show their skill in a game with Brighton on January 20th. The girls in the "B" team, were Pat Gerrie, Margaret Mackay, and Corinne Thomson, Betty Boyd, Liz Sadler, Pat Naylor. The "A" team won 34-17 and the "B" team did likewise with a score of 31-27. The rule for this game, as well as for other games played with American team was, that half the game was played on half the floor as in the States, and half the game played on two-thirds of the floor as in Canada. The return game was played on February 2nd. The "A" team won 38-25. The "B" team was less successful; they lost 30-25. The girls played Newport High on February 4th winning 56-25. A game with Derby on February 7th proved to be another success, with a score of 56-45. With the unanimous score of 82-13 in their favour, the girls played Ayer's Cliff on February 25th. This was the first game played for the MacLeod Trophy. The team went on to play Magog on March 23rd, but they lost 75-56. They lost the return game on March 5th, which meant that they were out of the play-offs. The next game they played, was with Compton on April 20th. This game was very close and exciting with the final score 32-30 for us. This was the first time Stanstead had beaten Compton for a long time. The return game's result was less flattering in that we lost 25-16 but the game itself was enjoyed by all. The girls completed their programme with a game versus Sherbrooke High on May 7th in Sunnyside gymnasium. This they did in fine style, adding up another win and ending a good year of basketball.

The schedule for the junior basketball team this year was not over crowded. The girls played their first game of the season with Derby on January 10. They were unlucky in this game as was shown in the final score 16-5, for Derby. The girls played King's Hall on April 20th and won 34-26. Liz Philip, Irene Bernec, Caroline Goodsell, Kina Reusch, serving as the forward line and Joyce Laberee, Mary Lou Lyons, Liz Taylor, Kelsey Blachford and Abigail Baldwin doing a very good job of guarding the home territory. The team had a return game with Compton on May 5th at Compton. This time they were less fortunate and the opponents ran up a score of 12-10. Despite the score, the girls enjoyed their visit very much. They played their last game of the year with Sherbrooke High School in Sunnyside on May 7th. We won 37-29, making a triumphant ending for the Junior Basketball season of 1955.

GIRLS' SOCCER

The Senior and Junior girls soccer teams played their first game of the season on October 15th. This game was played with the Junior boys on the girls' campus. Mr. MacPherson coached the boys to a 1-0 victory, Frank Motter getting the only goal. The senior girls then threatened the boys but both teams failed to score.

On October 26th, the Senior Girls played the Junior Boys again, this time the score was 1-0 in favour of the boys. John Buckland was responsible for the goal.

November 6th saw both Junior and Senior teams off to Compton with hopes of returning with a victory. The girls showed excellent teamwork in both games, though the final score was 4-0 in the Junior game and 6-0 in the Senior game for Compton. The girls were heartily entertained and left after a lovely chicken dinner.

Tuesday, November 9th, the Senior Girls challenged the Senior boys on the boys Soccer field. The latter team consisted principally of the Senior Football team. The girls failed to score in both the first and second half of the game with the result that the boys won by an 8-0 victory.

On November 11th our Junior and Senior teams played a return game with Compton. The visitors proved victorious in both games; the Junior game ending with a score of 6-0 and the Senior game 2-0.

This was the last game of the season for the girls. Regardless of the number of games lost, the girls are grateful for the patient and careful instruction of their coach, Miss Windeler.

BADMINTON

Among the many sports enjoyed by the girls this year, Badminton was an exceptionally enjoyable one. This sport was generally played on Friday afternoon or when there were no house-league basketball games being played. There were both single and double tournaments played throughout the winter. Ann Quintin and Sonja Bogstad won the doubles and Ann proved to be the better player.

WOMAN'S PLACE IS STILL IN THE HOME

Here in North America we are confronted with a problem. This problem comes as a result of one thing — the denial of the fact that woman's place is still in the home. We believe in equality, and thus women are considered on a par with men. But this assumption leads us to trouble. Young women who before used to be quite content getting married, and living a simple, tranquil life now desire much more. They leave the farms and small towns for the great centres of population. Every year thousands enter places like New York, Chicago, Detroit, New Orleans, Los Angeles, Toronto, and Montreal. Their purpose? A career. The two main attractions are modelling and show business. But there is one catch. Honourable as these professions might be, not everyone wins recognition. The stars of movie fame are a very small percentage of the population of North America. So, many of our young hopefuls become disappointed. Wherever they go, they are told the old line about getting a phone call, and that ends that. Now the troubles begin. Our young girls find themselves in the big cities — in a new, noisy, frightful world, their dreams dented. But still they hold on. Inspired by the success stories they hear everyday — they decide to stick to it out. So they take mediocre jobs. Often in the big cities you see them — young, pretty, intelligent, and educated, taking jobs on a level far below what they should have. They are all around you — waitresses, elevator operators, usherettes, ticket collectors, photography girls, hat-check girls. They work at places where they might be noticed by somebody of importance. Always waiting for the big break. What a humdrum existence they lead! At night they return to their shabby tenements, cook a tasteless meal, and read. Lonely, homesick, and unhappy they eke out a miserable living amid the clamour of city life, the noise, the confusion, the continuous hurry, hurry, hurry, to which they are not accustomed. Many of them get in the spirit of city life, and having nothing to do, go to extremes. They patronize night-clubs, bars, and restaurants. All the world's vices are unfolded before them. Many, in their country-girl innocence become the prey of racketeers. And then there are narcotics. Dope thrives on despair — the despair of these young women with shattered dreams and ruined lives.

We have too much of this to-day! Too many of to-day's women are bitter, cynical, hating the rest of the world. The successful ones are too career-minded to make good wives and stable citizens. We only need to look at Hollywood for an avid example of this. There we see greed, jealousy, despondency, unhappiness, and many other unpleasant sides of life. But in Hollywood you see the world's wealthiest people, including the most successful career girls. Are they happy? As happy as they would be if they had a quieter life at home? With very few exceptions they are not. And these are the successful ones. Marriage to them is a farce: bringing up children a lot of bother.

How can humanity survive if this continues? Family life is fast getting to be a thing of the past. Home life is a joke, because career-minded girls cannot be happy in marriage. We have more divorce cases now by far, than ever even remotely approached in previous times. That does the morals of our countries no good. This trend must be stopped.

SEEING LIFE THROUGH LITERATURE

On the grade XI Latin course, there is a book called "Everyday Life in Rome". Through the pages of this book I have been transported from the dull, dreary study period or Sunday afternoon at Stanstead College, to the bustling streets of Ancient Rome. I have watched Triumphs passing through the city, and I have strolled at dusk through the noisy army camp side-by-side with Scipio Africanus.

Surely the writer of that book must have felt the same way or else he would have been unable to make me feel such things, as the hot humidity of a Roman summer, as he did. But how did he know what these things felt like? He wasn't there. He didn't know Scipio or Caesar, yet he knew just what it was like.

The answer seems strange. Someone who had been there told him! Virgil and Horace told him. He read the poems of Virgil, the odes of Horace, the "Gallic Wars" of Caesar, — and this entire world was opened to him. He saw Roman life through Roman literature.

In the same way, Chaucer tells us all about the pleasant side of Mediaeval life in the "Canterbury Tales", Isaak Walton takes us fishing with him on the banks of some merry, gurgling little rill away out on the countryside of England, and Robbie Burns welcomes us into his own home in "The Cotters' Saturday Night".

We are seeing life through literature. The book is the product of its environment. One does not "read a book", one changes places with the author.

Actually, we do not see life through literature, we LIVE life through literature. We do not read about a hero, we BECOME that hero!

I used to wonder just what I would have done if I had been at Bannockburn. Now I know, because I was there. I led the army!

Anon.

THE BOY WHO DIDN'T PASS

A sad-faced little fellow alone in deep disgrace,
There's a lump arising in his throat and tears
Rush down his face,

He wandered from his playmates for he doesn't Want to hear

Their shouts of merry laughter since the world
Has lost its cheer.

He has sipped the cup of sorrow, he has Dropped the bitter glass,

And his heart is fairly breaking —
He's the boy who didn't pass.

In the apple tree the robin sings a cheery little song,

But he doesn't seem to hear it, showing plainly something's wrong.

Comes his faithful little spaniel for a romp and bit of play

But the troubled little fellow bids him sternly go away,

And alone he sits in sorrow, with his hair a tangled mass

And his eyes are red with weeping —
He's the boy who didn't pass.

Oh, you who boast a laughing son, and speak of him as bright,

And you who loves a little girl who comes to you at night

With shining eyes, and dancing feet, with honours from her school,

Turn to that lonely little lad who thinks he's such a fool,

And take him kindly by the hand, the dullest
of his class,

He's the one who most needs love —
The boy who didn't pass.

PANAMA

To you, my country Panama must seem a tropical jungle with coconut and palm trees, the immense ocean and the blue sky with savage Indians and wild animals. But really it is not. Surely it has its isolated places like many other countries, and animals and things of that nature, but the country and city itself is as civilized and cultured as any other country in the North and South American continents.

Now I will start by telling you a few important details of the country. Panama, between two great continents, is an isthmus surrounded by two great oceans, the Atlantic and the Pacific. Columbia and Costa Rica bound it in the West and East respectively. In length the isthmus measures two hundred miles, and by width fifty. It is crossed from East to West by the Andes, geographically an extension of the Rockies and the Sierra Madre in Mexico. The climate is very warm. Sometimes it gets so unbearable that people have to keep parts of their homes air conditioned to get some relief when it gets very hot. But the nicest thing to do when it is like this is to get your bathing suit and go in for a nice dip in the ocean and let the tropical sun give you a crisp tan. Don't you think that this must be better than staying at home? You can imagine what a change it was for me to come up to Canada and spend the winter months up here while they are enjoying our dry season. But it was a pleasant change for me, for I never thought that I would ever have the opportunity of seeing snow and enjoying the winter sports. It truly was a happy experience.

Panama's winter, as we call it, is the rainy season which runs from the end of June until the middle of December, and the other months are our summer, which certainly is beautiful.

A few words about history: Panama was discovered by Christopher Columbus, on his fourth voyage from Spain, on the 6th of January, 1503. This is where we got our national language. Panama became independent on the 28th of November, 1821, from Spain, but it voluntarily united itself to Colombia in this same year. This made many Panamanians decide to become independent, with self-government. This was a very heroic act and on the 3rd of November, 1903, Panama became independent without any fighting. It has been a happy republic ever since. Every year we celebrate this day with great festivities, parades, and fire crackers, which leave the hearts of the people full of great affection and patriotism for their country.

The world-known Panama Canal was rented to the United States for ninety-nine years for an annual amount of $250,000 which later was raised to a sum of $400,000 annually and finally on February 2nd, 1955 it was raised to a much higher amount of $9,000,000. This canal has been a great help for transport of things from one part of the world to another. It has helped commerce to advance five times more than it would by transporting products from one country to another by Cape Horn. And it also increases the importance of Panama, and also through this it has brought many more tourists and inhabitants to Panama.

To conclude I would like to say that I hope that some day I will have the pleasure of seeing you there on a visit.

Shirley Sasso.

ALONE

Far from home, in a foreign land, I was alone. I could not speak their language, nor could they understand mine. I was isolated in the midst of a score of strange faces.

The faces had pinched, hungry looks. The eyes were glazed and sullen. The lips were parted and the yellow fangs of teeth gave the faces a bestial appearance.

Night was drawing near and this primeval tract of jungle was no place to be trapped in the night, alone. I had been travelling since before day-break hoping to reach the hunting preserve where my friend, John Ashley, worked. They had told me I was a fool to travel in the jungle alone, but my guide was sick, my vacation was nearly over, and my determination to see my schoolmate once more was unshaken.

Now I began to regret my impetuosity. Old tales of head-hunting, and voodoo, and vanishing hunters came back to haunt me. Hurriedly, I approached the head man's hut. The sooner I could check my bearings and press on towards Ashley's lodge, the better.

These natives could not speak my tongue but at least if I was on the right trail they would know John's name. The headman's face made me shiver. The cruelty of the untamed beast lurked in his eyes. Civilization was far away and little heeded in these jungle retreats. Indeed John had told me in his letter that often months went by without his seeing a friendly face.

The thought of John's blunt, English face soothed me and I accosted the old chief boldly enough.

"Tuan Ashley," I cried and waved my arm questioningly towards the bushes. The old man hesitated, then suddenly he leered and beckoned me to follow him into his hut. Sheer terror gripped me but somehow I followed him. I was desperate now for the sight of a friendly face in the midst of these black leering natives. I think I would have followed Satan into the infernal darkness. My guide stopped and stepped aside. For the briefest second I felt I was going to die. Then I knew for certain that I was.

I had found my friendly face at last but the great strong body that had carried John Ashley so far was not attached to it any more.

THE INFLUENCE OF CLIMATE ON AMUSEMENT

There are so many different types of climate and so many types of amusement all over the world it would be almost impossible to mention most of them in an essay of five hundred words. So I shall try and give you some idea of what influence climate has on amusement in Canada.

When we are old enough to play by ourselves outside, but not yet old enough to go to school, we hope each day will be a sunny one. There just doesn't seem to be anything to do when it's pouring rain and there's no one to play with indoors. But when the sun shines during the months from May to November, there is a world of playtime amusement just outside the door. Like almost all, I remember the wonderful times I had with the neighbourhood children. Playing tag, roller skating, skipping rope, and of course, playing hide-and-go-seek. These are only a few of the many games played. But we wouldn't think of doing these things when the rain is coming down in buckets or dark clouds cover the sky. The only form of amusement on such a day would be to go splashing about in puddles, which usually results in a scolding from Mother, or even a spanking for getting soaking wet. Of course, there are a few games to play inside, such as checkers or cards, but these can't begin to compare with running around in the sunshine.

During the winter the same old problem of "nothing to do" comes up when the snow is whisking about or the thermometer suddenly registers twenty or thirty degrees colder. But what excitement comes when the first pair of skates are tried, or the toboggan Santa brought is first pushed downhill with its load of happy youngsters. Climate certainly has a great influence on the amusement of pre-school age children.

In the course of our years in grade school, the days when some of the classes were held outdoors were always the best. And how many children like to get up and head for school in the middle of a thunder or snow storm? Not very many! When recess comes and the weather is unbearable, you may be sure the teachers think the same as the children who are stuck in classroom instead of being out in the fresh air for fifteen minutes.

In my opinion we in Canada are fortunate to have such a varied climate.

THE TWELVE BOTTLES

I had 12 bottles of whiskey in my cellar and my wife told me to empty the contents of every bottle down the sink. I said I would and proceeded with the unpleasant task. I withdrew the cork from the first bottle and poured the contents down the sink, with the exception of one glass which I drank. I withdrew the cork from the third bottle, poured the whiskey down the sink with the exception of one glass which I had. I pulled the bottle from the cork of the next and drank one sink of it and poured the rest down the glass. I pulled the sink from the next glass and poured the cork from the bottle, then I corked the sink into the glass I bottled the drink and drank the pour. When I had emptied I steadied the house with one hand counted the bottle and corks and sinks with the other, which was 39 and as the house came by I counted them again except for one which I drank.

I am not as much under the influence of incohol as some thinkle peep I am.

PAUL BUNYAN AND THE UNPOPULATED NORTH

All the boys around the old stove had been telling yarns for the past four hours and then the quiet little fellow in the corner was called upon.

"C'mon Zeke, let's see what you've got to offer," yelled one of the lumbermen.

"Well now, fellers," answered Zeke, "If you'll all settle down and keep quiet, I'll tell you about old Paul Bunyan and the time he made the north country populous."

"It was back in '95, before the great gold rush. The north country had just been opened up and not more than two hundred people had come up to settle. It looked as though people just weren't interested in the cold and ice. One day Big Paul came sauntering into town and wondered why everybody was so gloomy. The people told him that there were so few people living up here that it just wasn't worth while. "Wal now," said Paul scratching his hairy head, "I'll jest have to do something about that. Don't you fret now, folks. Old Paul will think of something." He ran across the north pole and dug up all the gold in Russia. He then put it in a giant sack and carried it over to Alaska. From there he just threw it around. Some landed in Yukon, some in the north portion, and just for a matter of interest, some even went as far as the Frazer River in British Columbia.

"Well now, did this cause a panic. In less than a year there were more than eleven and a half thousand people up there. Yes sir, fellers, the north country is really full of people now."

"Hey, that's pretty good, Zeke," yelled one of the men, "I always wondered why them there Russians was so poor."

"Yep," replied Zeke, "That's the reason."

What That Day Was Like

The sun was just peeping over the horizon when Mr. Half Wit suddenly awoke to a rather cold atmosphere. It didn't take him long to realize that his wife was making an unusual racket in the kitchen below and that the furnace had gone out. These two hitherto unheard of factors had contributed to his awakening. He dressed quickly up until the stage of putting on his shirt, then went to shave. The words "Tommy, what have you done to my electric razor?" suddenly broke the awful silence. No answer. "Oh well, I'll call the repairmen and have him fix it." About ten rather blue minutes later, Half arrived downstairs in a dirty shirt, complaining bitterly that the laundry had not delivered the clean shirts and that all the telephone operators were asleep.

But Half was a simple man and his anger didn't last long. Even his wife's tearful visage across the breakfast table didn't bother him. She complained that the milk hadn't come, the refrigerator was out of order and the stove just wouldn't heat up. Something had happened to the water too. It must be a short circuit in the electric pump.

Half made a delightful breakfast of sour milk, stale bread and cheese. He would have preferred bacon and eggs but —

About three hours later a rather puzzled and footsore man turned into the gates of the factory where he worked. He just couldn't understand it. There were cars, buses, streetcars and trucks standing on the road but no one around. None had offered him a lift to work either. It must have been the meanness of this younger generation showing. As he sat down at his desk in a strangely quiet office Mr. Half Wit sighed with relief. "They have finally put silencers on those boilers." It did not strike our friend Half that it was unusual for him not to have visitors, nor any orders, nor even papers. He just spent a quiet day sitting thinking (about what I don't know) and chewing on his stale piece of bread.

That evening Mr. Half Wit walked slowly home.

GRADE EIGHT

Grade eight is a funny grade
Of which I am part:
We're outwardly quite wild,
But not too bad at heart.

There's Chris who laughs "like a horse"
And Donald with his wink;
There's Linda with her poodle-cut
And Judy who's quick to think.

Horse-loving Thelma next,
And Diane cute and prim,
And Ethel Mae who hates verbs,
And Joanne, quite tall and slim.

And there's Barb who's not too shy,
And Dot who's not too thin,
And Kirk who sits there in his seat
With a silly grin.

Next comes Glo, the cute chick,
Followed by Joe who doesn't miss a trick,
Then there's Tom who's very shy,
It winked at by a girl,
I'm sure he'd die.

Larry's the boy that reads the books,
David's the boy,
That has the looks.

Then there's Lee, Russ and Bob,
who sit around just like a log,
Benny likes to shoot a gun,
Calvin likes to have some fun.

Carroll likes to milk a cow,
While standing in the stall,
Wayne likes to sit in school,
And do nothing at all.

There's Freddy and Alvin who like to sleep,
And Arnold who likes to play,
And Bob and John, who like to dream,
All through the day.

Then there's Cyril who is always
Away in space,
And Sandra who has the charming face,
And Gordon is the next in line,
Who obeys the rules half the time.

Then Irene, with brains,
Beneath her flowing locks,
And last, and sometimes least,
Comes Joyce the chatter box.

Within our room we sit
From morning until night,
And learn to separate the errors
From the right.

All earnest scholars we,
With mischief well mixed in,
Until the teachers' nerves,
Are surely worn quite thin.

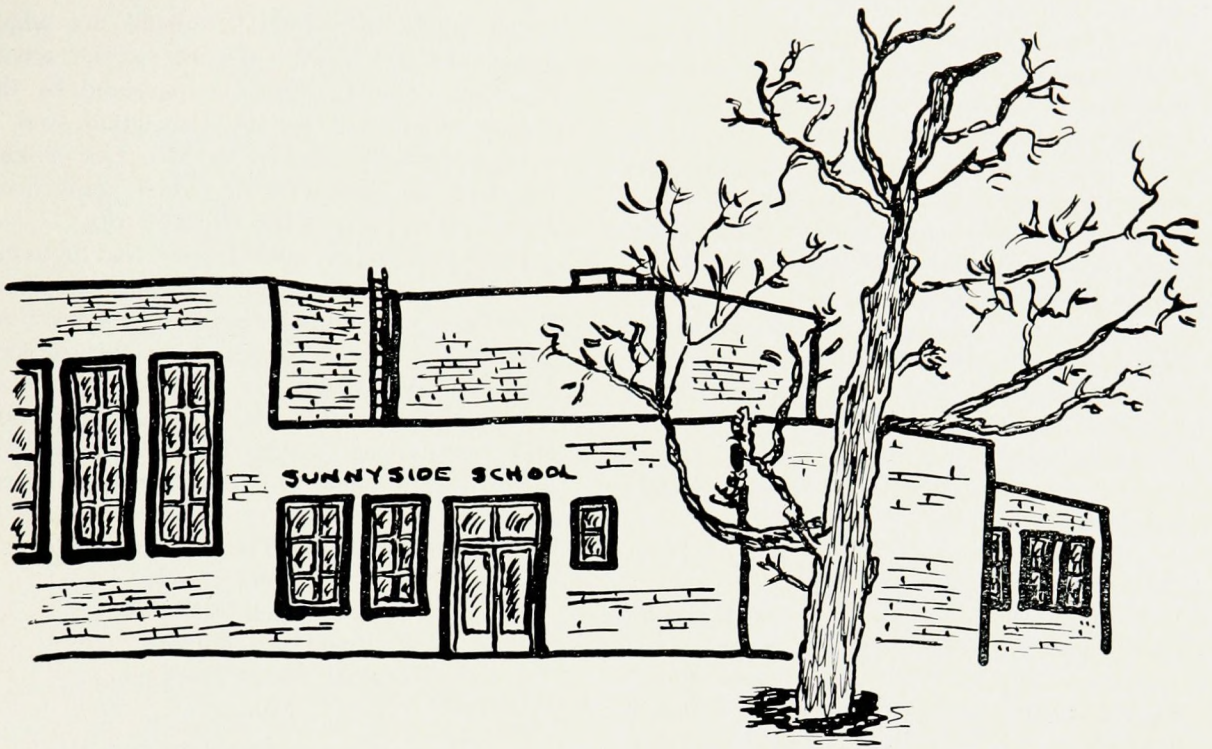

And now before I close
I must be sure to tell —
Without our teachers dear,
We'd not get on so well!

Mrs. Johnston, Miss Philip,
Mr. Semon, Mr. Hackett, Mrs. Smith,
Miss Windeler, Mrs. Fleming,
Are ever glad to help us,
In our daily learning.

They're patient, kind and good,
To all us lunatics:
To them go love and thanks

From the future class,
Of "Fifty-Six".

Sunnyside

JUNIOR OPERETTA

On Friday evening, March 25th, a Junior Operetta called the "Cobbler of Fairyland" was presented in the Sunnyside gym by Grades Six and Seven. Every pupil in these grades had an active part in the production; those who were not on the stage helped as ushers, or with properties. Sixty-seven children appeared on the stage, of whom the main characters were:

Queen Monarchia, the royal tyrant	Frank Motter
King Martin the Meek, her henpecked husband	Sefton Osborne
Princess Delmarie, daughter of the royal pair	Anna Lemon
Fercival, the court page	Martin Gerrard
Rosaline, first lady in waiting	Mary Lou Lyons
Christobel, second lady-in waiting	Judith Gordon
Lady Lucinda, Mistress of the Robe	Joan French
Fairy Cobbler	George Chiarella
First Elf	Carl Zimmerman
Machiavelli (the cat)	Charles Milet de St. Aubin
Head Cook	Nancy Abbott
Second Cook	Carol Sisco
Head Painter	Ricky Sheffer
Second Painter	Tommy Hill
Second Elf	Ronald Winter
Vengefuletta, the uninvited bad fairy	Caroline Goodsell
Witch	Edna Woods
Lord Mayor	Billy Brock
First Guest	Elizabeth Macalister

Besides these there were a large number of fairies, red elves and green elves who helped the Cobbler, as well as a group of cooks and many guests.

Mrs. Lynch who was the director of the Operetta, did a fine job both in training the children and in planning the costumes and scenery. The many beautiful costumes were made by the Sunnyside staff with the help of many kind parents.

It was estimated that over six hundred people were present at this Operetta, the proceeds of which amounted to over two hundred and thirty-five dollars.

SUNNYSIDE CAFETERIA

One phase of Sunnyside School life which makes our day more enjoyable is the school Cafeteria. This Cafeteria is sponsored by the Border Home and School Association, and is very successfully handled by Mrs. Lee Jenkins who with her assistant Mrs. Putney, daily plans a good lunch for only twenty-five cents.

From September until Easter ten thousand nine hundred lunches have been served. There have been many donations of vegetables from parents and others interested in this project. Generous cash donations from the Stanstead Branch of the I.O.D.E., the Legion, Rotary Club and International Night Fund have enabled many less fortunate children to have a warm lunch at noon.

The following are two sample lunches:

Baked Beef Hash
Tossed Vegetable Salad
Bread and Butter
Chocolate Fudge Ice Cream
Milk

Mashed Potatoes
Hamburg with Gravy
Creamed Carrots and Peas
Bread and Butter
Pears
Milk

WALK IN WINTER

I love to hear the crunch of snow
As feet tread on its crust,
And when the cooling breezes blow
An evening stroll's a "must".

MARCH WINDS

Hurry up! Hurry up!
The March wind is coming,
It makes a nice sound
Because it is humming.

March wind is nice
Because it brings the sap.
I like it very much
Because it's time to tap.

Janie Whitehouse.

THE COWBOY

I would like to be a cowboy,
Who rides around the plain,
He always rides on sunny days,
And even rides in rain.

And when he is finished riding
The whole day long
He will come home to rest
And he'll sing a happy song.

Terry Soutiere.

MY KITTY

I have a little kitty gay,
She likes to purr and purr away,
She purrs all day and part of the night
And she very seldom gets in a fight.

Sandra Sisco.

A U T U M N

Outside the leaves are falling down,
How beautiful they look!
Bright red and yellow and dark brown,
As in a picture book.

THE SEA

The Sea Gull told the Shells. The Shells told the Sand. The Sand tolld the Oyster. Did you hear the news? John has learned to swim.

Sheila Tenneson.

SAFETY PATROL

The Safety Patrol was made for each and every pupil of the school. It is not only for small children, but you may be crossing the street when a voice calls "Come back."

You may wonder why the boy or girl on Safety Patrol has called you back, but when you go back you may find a car coming which you didn't see.

The boys and girls who take part in the Safety Patrol are chosen from Grades VI and VII. They have a great deal of responsibility for they must keep a constant watch to make your life safe when you are crossing the street.

Just remember the Safety Patrol is there to help you; you can do your share by helping them.

Wendell Webb.

D R E A M I N G

One morn as I sat gazing
On a cool bright summer day,
I thought I saw a clipper ship
Come floating in the bay.

I wished that I could be aboard,
For it would be so gay;
Then I could run and dance and jump
In wondrous joyful play.

Caroline Goodsell.

BULLETINS AND LETTERS

This year Alumni Members have been receiving Bulletins and Letters from Mr. MacPherson and from Mr. Fred C. Miller, Alumni President. These prove very interesting and useful in keeping members informed of happenings and progress in College and Alumni.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual banquet and business meeting of the Alumni Association is to be held at Stanstead College on Saturday, May 14, 1955. The guest speaker will be Rev. Norman Rawson of St. James Church, Montreal.

Recent projects of the association have been: to provide jackets for the prize winning hockey team, to purchase magazines for the library, and to provide records for the record player purchased last year.

At the Executive meeting held in Montreal on March 8, 1955, approval was given to the Principal to obtain a memorial tablet for those past students who gave their lives during the Second World War (1939-1945). This tablet is to be the same style as the one which now hangs in the College for the fallen of World War I (1914-1918). In his spring term bulletin Mr. MacPherson listed the following names for the tablet and asked that anyone knowing of other names which should be included would please let him know.

ANNUAL MEETING 1955

The Annual Meeting of the Stanstead Alumni Association was held in the college dining room on May 14, 1955, beginning with a sumptuous banquet served to over 170 members of the Association in addition to special guests including 86 students of the graduating classes.

Alumni President, Mr. Fred D. Miller of Montreal, presided. The special speaker was Rev. Norman Rawson of St. James United Church, Montreal, who gave an unusual and humorous address on the subject: "Looking into an Old Trunk". Mr. Rawson was introduced by Mr. Gerry Wilson of Montreal. Students expressing a vote of thanks were James Edward of Grade XII, Georgia Copland of B.B.C. and Joyce Chamberlain of Grade XI.

A highlight of the evening was the presentation of jackets to members of the champion hockey team and their coach, Mr. Boswell.

Short speeches were made by Mr. Gordon LeBaron, Chairman of the Board, and Mr. L. C. MacPherson, Principal of Stanstead College. A note of greeting from Miss Jessie Colby, O.B.E., was read by President Miller.

The author of the Alma Mater, Mr. Clark Reilly was given a life membership, which was presented by Past President S. A. Healy.
